

Journal of micro finance

PRACTITIONER AND DEVELOPMENT PERSPECTIVES

Vol. 2 No. 1

Spring 2000

Christopher Dunford

In Search of "Sound Practices" for Microfinance

Rosalind Copisarow

The Application of Microcredit
Technology to the UK: Key Commercial and Policy Issues

Napoleon Bamfo

Rural Towns as Partners in the Utilization of Financial Credit: A Viable Option for Accelerated
Development in Africa

Jeffrey R. Franks

Macroeconomic Stabilization and the Microentrepreneur

Benson Honig

Small Business Promotion and Microlending: A Comparative Assessment of Jamaican and Israeli NGOs

Anton Simanowitz

Client Exit Surveys: A Tool for Understanding Client "Drop-Out"

EDITORS

Warner Woodworth
Brigham Young University

Gary Woller
Brigham Young University

MANAGING EDITORS

Benjamin Cook

David Hanley

Daniel Ellsworth

Shad Morris

EDITORIAL BOARD

Craig Churchill
Calmeadow

Kate McKee
USAID

Rosalind Copisarow
Fundusz Mikro

Lynn McMullen
RESULTS

Sam Daley-Harris
Microcredit Summit

Kimanthi Mutua
Kenyan Rural Enterprise Program

Christopher Dunford
Freedom From Hunger

Harihar Dev Pant
Nirdhan

Elaine Edgcomb
Aspen Institute

Alain Plouffe
SOCODEVI

Jason Friedman
Institute for Social and Economic Development

David Richardson
World Council of Credit Unions

Ellen Golden
Coastal Enterprises

Mark Schreiner
Washington University, St. Louis

Kathleen Gordon
Working Capital Florida

Hans Dieter Seibel
International Fund for Agricultural Development

John Hatch
FINCA International

Carmen Velasco
Pro Mujer-Bolivia

Gerald Hildebrand
Katalysis North/South Development
Partnership

J. D. Von Pishke
Frontier Finance International

Mildred Robbins Leet
Trickle Up

Muhammad Yunus
Grameen Bank

TABLE OF CONTENTS

GUEST COLUMN

- 6 In Search of "Sound Practices" for Microfinance
Christopher Dunford

ARTICLES

- 13 The Application of Microcredit Technology to the UK: Key Commercial and Policy Issues
Rosalind Copisarow
- 43 Rural Towns as Partners in the Utilization of Financial Credit: A Viable Option for Accelerated
Development in Africa
Napoleon Bamfo
- 69 Macroeconomic Stabilization and the Microentrepreneur
Jeffrey R. Franks
- 92 Small Business Promotion and Microlending: A Comparative Assessment of Jamaican and Israeli NGOs
Benson Honig
- 112 Client Exit Surveys: A Tool for Understanding Client
"Drop-Out"
Anton Simanowitz

Purpose and Scope

Journal of Microfinance is an exciting new forum published semi-annually for the sharing of ideas and information pertaining to the practice of microfinance. The Journal's purpose is to influence the practice of microfinance by focusing on experiences and lessons learned from the field. The Journal presents the insights of practitioners and academics at the forefront of microfinance, bringing the issues forward that are affecting institutions worldwide.

The Journal publishes articles and special symposia by practitioners, donors, microfinance advocates, government officials, development specialists, and academics. Articles or special symposia accepted for publication will cover a broad range of topics, including: case studies, research findings, impact evaluations, microentrepreneurship, microenterprise development, institutional sustainability, fundraising and donor relations, and essays or debates on important issues in microfinance. The Journal seeks papers for publication in upcoming issues. See inside for submission information.

Journal of Microfinance

ISSN: 1527-4314

790 TNRB

Marriott School of Management

Brigham Young University

Provo, UT 84602

Address Service Requested