May 21, 2004

Shon Hiatt, a graduate student in Organization Behavior from BYU, returned this week from Peru. He spent 12 days with Oswaldo Tello and his team doing 125 family surveys among the applicants for our training classes. This will give us our baseline to start our micro enterprise training programs and in a year we will be able to accurately measure our work with the people. A big THANKS to Shon and Warner Woodworth for making this possible.
